

Clark University Statement of Freedom of Expression and Community Values

This statement of principles articulates Clark University's commitments and ideals relating to freedom of expression and academic freedom, respect for each other within

